Understanding Your Credit Score

What you should know about credit scores

Your credit score is a number that reflects the information in your credit report.

Your credit report is a record of your credit history. It includes information about whether you pay your bills on time and how much you owe to creditors.

Your credit score can change, depending on how your credit history changes.

How we use your credit score

Your credit score can affect whether you can get a loan and how much you will have to pay for that loan.

The range of scores

Scores range from a low of [Insert bottom number in the range] to a high of [Insert top number in the range].

Generally, the higher your score, the more likely you are to be offered better credit terms.

How your score compares to the scores of other consumers

Checking Your Credit Report

What if there are mistakes in your credit report?

You have a right to dispute any inaccurate information in your credit report. If you find mistakes on your credit report, contact the consumer reporting agency.

It is a good idea to check your credit report to make sure the information it contains is accurate.

How can you obtain a copy of your credit report?

Under federal law, you have the right to obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the nationwide consumer reporting agencies once a year.
