

Transit Routes & Population Density

Transit Routes and Job Density

Equitable Transit Study

- Healthcare, jobs, education, child care, shopping and houses of worship are important destinations
- The most difficult-to-access places tend to be those outside the region's urban core
- Dissatisfaction with bus frequency, hours of operation, and weekend service
- A lack of transportation appears to be a barrier to employment
- Many participants feel that their choices are limited or nonexistent
- Bus amenities and the rider experience also do not appear to prevent access to transportation.
- Cost does not appear to be a significant barrier to bus transportation for most participants.
- Accessible transit options play an important role.
- There may be a need for more information about transportation options
