Economic and Community Advisory Council
2020 Council Members

Donald F. Schwarz
ECAC Chair
Senior Vice President, Program
Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

Donald F. Schwarz serves as chair of the Economic and Community Advisory Council. He is senior vice president, program, for the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the nation’s largest philanthropy dedicated to health. Schwarz guides foundation strategies and works with colleagues, external partners, and community leaders to build a Culture of Health in America. He also leads the foundation’s efforts to promote healthier and more equitable communities, healthy children, and healthy weight.

Schwarz was deputy mayor and health commissioner for the City of Philadelphia, overseeing the Department of Human Services, the Department of Behavioral Health and Intellectual disAbility Services, and the Office of Supportive Housing. Before entering government service, Schwarz was vice chairman of the Department of Pediatrics of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine and deputy physician-in-chief and chief of the Craig-Dalsimer Division of Adolescent Medicine at the Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia. He was also a professor of pediatrics in Penn’s schools of Medicine and Nursing and a senior fellow at Penn’s Leonard Davis Institute of Health Economics. Earlier in his career, Schwarz was a Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Clinical Scholar.

An active researcher in adolescent risk behaviors, Schwarz received funding to examine injury and its prevention in urban, minority communities; public policy approaches to adolescent violence; and physician- and nurse-practice-based interventions to improve outcomes for high-risk infants.

Schwarz has an M.D. and an M.P.H. from Johns Hopkins University, an M.B.A. in health-care administration from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and a B.A. in biology from Brown University.

Rochelle L. Cameron
Chief Executive Officer
Philadelphia International Airport

Rochelle L. Cameron is the chief executive officer of Philadelphia International Airport, a large hub airport system that includes Northeast Philadelphia Airport and serves over 30 million passengers annually. She oversees the planning, development, and administration of all activities for the City's Division of Aviation. Since joining the airport's leadership team in 2011, she has also been chief operating officer responsible for day-to-day operations and deputy director of aviation, finance, and administration.

Previously, Cameron spent 13 years with the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority. She also served seven years as an active duty officer in the Air Force and one year as an Air Force civilian employee.

Cameron serves on the board of directors' Executive Committee for Airports Council International-North America; the National Policy Committee of the American Association of Airport Executives; the Select Greater Philadelphia’s advisory board; and the boards of directors for the Airport Minority Advisory Council, the Philadelphia Convention and Visitors Bureau, the Global Philadelphia Association, the World Trade Center of Greater Philadelphia, the United Way of Greater Philadelphia and Southern New Jersey, and LEADERSHIP Philadelphia.

Cameron is a certified public accountant in the Commonweath of Pennsylvania and Virginia. She holds an M.B.A. from Auburn University at Montgomery and a B.A. in political science with a special concentration in economics and philosophy from the University of Notre Dame.

Martin P. Connor
Chief Financial Officer
Toll Brothers, Inc.

Martin P. Connor has been CFO of Toll Brothers, Inc., a luxury homebuilder and Fortune 500 company, since 2010. He has direct responsibility for Accounting, Finance, Tax, Investor Relations, and several other departments.

Before joining Toll Brothers, Connor was the CFO and director of operations for a $4 billion diversified commercial real estate development company in the Mid-Atlantic region and had spent more than 20 years at Ernst & Young as an audit and advisory business services partner.

Connor is a three-time recipient of the Homebuilder CFO of the Year award from Institutional Investor magazine. He serves on the advisory council of Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation and on the board of trustees of Holy Ghost Preparatory School, his high school. He has also served on the real estate advisory council of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia.

Connor is a certified public accountant and a graduate of the University of Notre Dame. He has been an active volunteer for various community and youth athletic organizations.
Edward (Ed) L. Dandridge
Global Chief Marketing and Communications Officer, General Insurance
AIG

Ed Dandridge is the global chief marketing and communications officer of AIG General Insurance. He leads AIG General Insurance’s global marketing and communications organization that markets and distributes products and services to commercial clients, individual customers, and distribution networks in more than 80 countries; manages the AIG brand, sponsorships, and partnerships; and engages with AIG’s external stakeholders.

Before AIG, Dandridge was chief marketing and communications officer of Marsh & McLennan Companies, president and chief executive officer of the National Association of Investment Companies, chief communications officer at the Nielsen Company, and vice president of Disney’s ABC television network. He began his career as an attorney in private practice in New York.

A member of the Executive Leadership Council, he has been recognized by Savoy magazine as one of the “Top 100 Most Influential Blacks in Corporate America” and received the CMO Customer Experience award in 2018. Dandridge has a juris doctorate from the University of Pennsylvania School of Law and a B.A. with honors in history from Tufts University.

Susan S. Hakkarainen
Cochair and Co-CEO
Lutron Electronics Co., Inc.

Susan Hakkarainen is cochair and co-CEO of Lutron Electronics, the premier manufacturer of lighting, shade, and temperature controls for residential and commercial applications. Hakkarainen is also the founder and chief creative officer of Ivalo Lighting, Inc., a subsidiary of Lutron Electronics, which designs, manufactures and sells innovative lighting fixtures conceived as architectural elements.

She began her career as a researcher, working on the Hubble Space Telescope and then on fusion energy projects at the Naval Research Laboratory, and in Japan at Toshiba’s energy science and technology laboratory. Upon repatriating to the United States in 1990, she joined Lutron Electronics and started its Japan division.

At Lutron, Hakkarainen became the vice president of international marketing and general manager of the commercial systems and ballast division. In 2011, she was appointed to vice president of marketing and communications, guiding the development and implementation of all print, web, social, and digital materials, and developing her team to ensure clear, effective communications to all Lutron customers. In 2015, Hakkarainen was named company cochair alongside her mother and company cofounder, Ruth Rodale Spira. Hakkarainen shares the CEO role with Michael Pessina.

Hakkarainen is on the boards of the Wolfsonian–Florida International University Museum and Asia Society and is a trustee of the Eisenhower Fellowships. She has a Ph.D. in applied plasma physics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and master’s and bachelor’s degrees in electrical engineering from Cornell University.
Ali A. Houshmand
President
Rowan University

Ali A. Houshmand became Rowan University’s seventh president in 2012 after serving as provost/senior vice president, CEO, and interim president. During his presidency, Rowan has evolved from a well-regarded state school to a rising Carnegie-classified national research university with two medical schools, has nearly doubled its enrollment, and has partnered with Rutgers–Camden to develop a life sciences research hub in Camden.

Before joining Rowan in 2006, Houshmand taught and held various administrative positions at Drexel University and was on the faculty at the University of Cincinnati. He also worked as a staff analyst for United Airlines.

Houshmand earned doctoral and master’s degrees in industrial and operations engineering from the University of Michigan and bachelor’s and master’s degrees in mathematics and mathematical statistics from the University of Essex.

Angelique X. Irvin
Chairman and CEO
Clear Align

Angelique X. Irvin is chairman and CEO of Clear Align, a worldwide supplier of advanced electro-optics serving the aerospace and defense, scientific research, life and health sciences, and unmanned vehicle markets. She is a founder of the company, which has been awarded multiple patents and earned several growth and technology awards under her leadership.

Irvin has over 30 years of experience in managing fast-growing high-tech businesses founded on innovation. Prior to her position at Clear Align, she led Coviant, a world-class electro-optics manufacturing supplier. She was also responsible for innovative product launches at AT&T Bell Laboratories.

Irvin is an advocate for technology innovation and small businesses in the U.S. and has testified as an expert to Congress. Irvin earned an M.B.A. from the Wharton School of Business of the University of Pennsylvania and graduated with honors from Alfred University with a bachelor’s degree in ceramic engineering.
Sharmain Matlock-Turner is president and CEO of the Urban Affairs Coalition (formerly, the Greater Philadelphia Urban Affairs Coalition), which she joined in 1999, becoming the first woman to lead in the organization’s 47-year history. The Urban Affairs Coalition unites government, business, neighborhood, and individual initiatives to improve the quality of life in the Philadelphia region. The organization focuses on four areas: improving life chances for youth and young adults, building wealth in low-income communities, strengthening the grassroots nonprofit sector, and forging strategic partnerships across sectors and communities.

Prior to leading the coalition, Matlock-Turner was associate vice president, legislative and community affairs, for Mercy Health System and AmeriHealth Caritas. Before that, she was chief of staff to the late Pennsylvania State Senator Roxanne H. Jones. She also served as a staffer in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives and Philadelphia City Council, and was a political campaign consultant at the local and state levels.

Matlock-Turner is founder and chair of the West Oak Lane Charter School. She also serves on the board of trustees of Peirce College, the board of directors of Entrepreneur Works, the Chamber of Commerce for Greater Philadelphia, the Children’s Scholarship Fund Philadelphia, the Philadelphia Council for College and Career Success, the board of directors of Street Soccer Philadelphia, the president’s council of the Cranaleith Spiritual Center, and the Citizens Bank advisory board. She is also a Senior Fellow at University of Pennsylvania’s Fels Institute for Government. Matlock-Turner has received numerous awards recognizing her work and commitment to families and communities. She is often asked to speak to local, regional, and national organizations, and is a regular guest on 6ABC’s public affairs television program Inside Story.

Matlock-Turner has a B.S. in education from Temple University. In 2005, she was one of three Philadelphia nonprofit leaders selected to receive a scholarship to Harvard Business School’s nonprofit leaders’ summer program.

Janice E. Nevin is president and CEO of Christiana Care Health System. As the leader of the largest health system in Delaware, Nevin is pioneering value-based care, leading a transformation from a health-care system to a system that truly impacts health. She is nationally recognized for innovation in patient- and family-centered care and population health.

Nevin is dedicated to advancing the Christiana Care way, the health system’s promise to serve its community with expert, respectful care in partnership with patients and their families in ways they value and can afford.
In 2017, Nevin was inducted into the Delaware Women’s Hall of Fame and was recognized among 100 Great Healthcare Leaders to Know in 2017 by Becker’s Hospital Review. For her commitment to her community, she received Delaware’s Grassroots Champion Award from the American Hospital Association and the David G. Menser Award from the Wilmington Senior Center, both in 2017. She was named the 2016 Woman of Distinction by the Girl Scouts of the Chesapeake Bay.

Nevin serves on the Strategic Planning Committee of America’s Essential Hospitals, the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia’s Economic and Community Advisory Council, and the boards of directors of the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce, the Delaware Center for Health Innovation, the United Way of Delaware, and the Delaware Community Foundation. She is a member of the Delaware Business Roundtable Executive Committee and the CEO Council for Growth of the Chamber of Commerce for Greater Philadelphia.

Nevin has a medical degree from Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University and completed her family medicine residency at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital. She also has a master’s degree in public health from the University of Pittsburgh and a bachelor’s degree from Harvard University.

Joseph Sheetz

Chief Executive Officer
Sheetz, Inc.

Joseph Sheetz is CEO of Sheetz, Inc., a convenience retailer based in Altoona, PA, with more than 600 stores in six states. He began working at the company, founded by his uncle, when he was in high school, and has held numerous positions, including president, executive vice president of finance, and director of personnel. After graduating from college, Sheetz had a stint as an employee benefit and pension plan consultant for CGI Consulting in suburban Philadelphia before returning to the family-owned business.

Sheetz serves on the executive committee of the Altoona Blair County Development Corporation, where he was chairman from 2009 to 2011, and is a frequent guest speaker at business schools and family business conferences. He is also a former chairman of the board of directors for the National Association of Convenience Stores and a former chairman of Mount Aloysius College.

He earned a bachelor of science in economics from the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania.

Steve Somers

President and Owner
Vigon International

Steve Somers is president and owner of Vigon International, a supplier of specialty flavor, fragrance, and cosmetics ingredients based in East Stroudsburg, PA. Since he took ownership of Vigon in 1998, the company has been named multiple times to the Inc. 5000 Fastest Growing Companies, the National Best and Brightest Companies to Work For, and the Best Places to Work in PA lists. Somers was chosen the 2016 EY Entrepreneur of the Year in manufacturing for Greater Philadelphia.

Before joining Vigon in 1997, Somers held various positions at Givaudan, including vice president of sales of fragrance ingredients for North America and business director.

Somers is a trustee on several college boards and serves on several nonprofit boards, including the Lehigh Valley Hospital–Pocono Foundation. He is also part of the ownership team for the Scranton/ Wilkes-Barre RailRiders, the New York Yankees’ Triple-A team.

Somers earned an M.S. in analytical chemistry from St. John’s University and a B.S. in organic chemistry from St. Joseph’s College.

Dana Strong
President of Xfinity Consumer Services
Comcast Cable

Dana Strong is president of Xfinity consumer services for Comcast Cable. In this role, she is responsible for the go-to-market strategy of the residential business of Comcast Cable. Strong oversees Comcast’s Xfinity Brand and suite of products that service more than 31 million customers across the country.

Before joining Comcast, Strong served as president and chief operating officer at Virgin Media, a fully owned subsidiary of Liberty Global. She was responsible for driving growth and had oversight of the entire customer experience across Virgin Media’s consumer business unit, including broadband, video, and voice. She also served as senior vice president and chief transformation officer at Liberty Global, one of the world’s leading converged video, broadband, and communications companies.

Strong is a dual-degree graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with a bachelor of science in economics from the Wharton School of Business and a bachelor of arts in history from the College of Arts and Sciences.

Linda Thomson
President and CEO
JARI

Since 2000, Linda Thomson has been president and CEO of JARI, a regional economic development organization serving the Cambria and Somerset counties of Pennsylvania. In this role, she is responsible for strategic and tactical planning, fundraising, reporting to community leadership, public relations, and overall implementation of JARI programs. She is the organizational lead on community development and shale gas initiatives, Showcase for Commerce, and international business attraction.

Before joining JARI, Thomson was executive director of the Clearfield County Industrial Development Authority for 12 years. She began her career in economic development as director of the Greater Connellsville Chamber of Commerce in 1983.
Thomson is a member of the Pitt-Johnstown Division of Business and Enterprise Advisory Board, St. Francis University Small Business Development Center Advisory Board and President’s Advisory Council, Mt. Aloysius President’s Advisory Council, and North/South Highway Coalition Working Group, and is on several other economic development committees. Thomson has an M.P.A. from Lehigh University and a B.A. from Waynesburg College.

Robin L. Wiessmann
Executive Director and CEO
Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency

Robin L. Wiessmann is executive director and CEO of the Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency (PHFA). In this role, she manages the agency’s day-to-day operations and directs initiatives that promote affordable rental housing, foster homeownership, provide no-cost housing counseling, fund local housing efforts, and reduce home foreclosures.

Before joining PHFA, Wiessmann held positions as chair of the Conference of State Bank Supervisors Non-Depository Supervisory Committee, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Banking and Securities, treasurer of Pennsylvania, and deputy director of finance for the City of Philadelphia. She was a founding principal and president of Artemis Capital Group, the first women-owned investment banking firm on Wall Street, and held leadership positions at Goldman Sachs and Merrill Lynch.

Wiessmann earned a law degree from Rutgers Law School and is a graduate of Lafayette College.

Council Leadership

Patrick T. Harker
President and CEO
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

Patrick T. Harker took office on July 1, 2015, as the 11th president and CEO of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia. In this role, Harker participates on the Federal Open Market Committee, which formulates the nation’s monetary policy.

Before taking office at the Philadelphia Fed, Harker was the 26th president of the University of Delaware. He was also a professor of business administration at the university’s Alfred Lerner College of Business and Economics and a professor of civil and environmental engineering at the College of Engineering.

Before joining the University of Delaware in 2007, Harker was dean and Reliance Professor of Management and Private Enterprise at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Before being appointed dean in 2000, Harker was the Wharton School’s interim dean and deputy dean as well as the chair of its operations and information management department. In 1991, he was the youngest faculty member in Wharton’s history to be awarded an endowed professorship as UPS Transportation Professor of the Private Sector. He has published or edited nine books and more than 100 professional articles. From 1996 to 1999, he was editor-in-chief of the journal Operations Research.

In 2012, Harker was named a fellow of the Institute for Operations Research and the Management Sciences (INFORMS) and a charter fellow of the National Academy of Inventors. He was also named a White House fellow by President George H.W. Bush in 1991 and served as a special assistant to FBI Director William S. Sessions from 1991 to 1992.

Harker is a member of the Select Operating Committee of Select Greater Philadelphia. He previously served on the boards of Catholic Relief Services; Pepco Holdings, Inc.; and Huntsman Corporation and was a founding member of the board of advisors for Decision Lens, Inc. Harker was also a nonbanking Class B director of the Philadelphia Fed from 2012 to 2015.

Harker has a Ph.D. in civil and urban engineering, an M.A. in economics, and an M.S.E. and B.S.E. in civil engineering, all from the University of Pennsylvania.

James D. Narron
First Vice President and COO
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

James D. Narron joined the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia in April 2016 as first vice president and COO. Previously, Narron was a senior vice president and product manager at the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco and senior vice president at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Before joining the New York Fed, Narron worked at the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, the Board of Governors in Washington, D.C., and in consulting.

Narron speaks Spanish and has published a number of articles for the New York Fed’s Liberty Street Economics blog. He is on the board of Ben Franklin Technology Partners of Southeastern Pennsylvania and previously served on the board of the Maura Clarke and Ita Ford Center in New York, as well as chair of the board of directors for the Keep A Breast Foundation.

Narron has a master’s degree in international business administration from the University of South Carolina and a bachelor’s degree in finance and economics from Rockhurst University in Kansas City, MO.

Deborah L. Hayes
Senior Vice President
Corporate Affairs
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

Deborah L. Hayes joined the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia in January 2016 as senior vice president, overseeing the Community Development and Regional Outreach, Digital Strategy, and Public Affairs departments. In addition, she directs the Bank’s outreach efforts to legislative, business, banking, and community groups and manages the Bank’s Economic and Community Advisory Council.

Previously, Hayes was the vice president of communications and public affairs for the University of Delaware from 2013 to 2016 and was the managing director of communications for The Pew Charitable Trusts from 2002 to 2011. She was also a founding partner and president of media strategies for the New York-based firm Westhill Partners from 1999 to 2002 and led all communications efforts for Oprah Winfrey/Harpo Productions in Chicago from 1994 to 1999. Before that, she held a senior position at MTV Networks in New York City and developed the company’s internal and external communications. She has also provided communications counsel on Capitol Hill and has served as press secretary for Congressman Richard Gephardt.

Hayes is a board member of the Monell Chemical Senses Center in Philadelphia and has chaired its Development and Communications Committee since 2009. She was also selected to serve as a regional judge for the White House Fellows Program in 2011. Hayes has a B.A. in English literature from Tennessee State University.

Erin Mierzwa
Strategic Outreach & Engagement Officer
Community Development and Regional Outreach
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

Erin Mierzwa joined the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia in 2005 and is the strategic outreach and engagement officer. In this role, she develops outreach and engagement strategies to enhance the awareness and understanding of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia among key stakeholders across the Third District. She also leads the Bank’s Economic and Community Advisory Council and Community Depository Institutions Advisory Council. Since 2011, Mierzwa has overseen planning efforts for the Bank’s signature biennial conference series, Reinventing Our Communities. In addition, she manages the Community Development and Regional Outreach Department’s administrative functions, including strategic planning, contracts, and budgets.

Previously, Mierzwa worked for Towers Perrin, a benefits consulting firm, where she specialized in helping large companies renew their health and welfare benefits. In addition, she managed account activities, analyzed health-care trends, designed and priced health-care plans, and developed communication strategies for these companies.

Mierzwa has a master’s degree in economics and a bachelor’s degree in English from Lehigh University. She was formerly a licensed life and health insurance broker in the state of New Jersey.
Bond Kraemer joined the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia in October 1990 as a finance analyst in the accounting area. Her past roles at the Fed include marketing and automation coordinator and account executive working with financial institutions to implement Fed services. In her current position as planning and operations manager in the Community Development and Regional Outreach Department, she manages the Bank’s Community Depository Institutions Advisory Council and the Economic and Community Advisory Council. In addition, Kraemer oversees planning efforts for the Bank’s field meetings and other key programs to engage with financial institutions.

Kraemer has a B.S. in finance and marketing from Drexel University.

Jeanne R. Rentezelas
Senior Vice President and General Counsel
Legal
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

Jeanne R. Rentezelas is senior vice president and general counsel, overseeing the Bank’s Legal Department. She also serves as the Bank’s ethics officer.

Before joining the Bank on June 21, 2010, Rentezelas was counsel at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) in Washington, D.C. She actively participated in briefing FDIC Chairman Sheila Bair and represented the FDIC in federal interagency meetings, including serving on the Payment Fraud Working Group and President Obama’s Nondiscrimination Working Group.

Prior to joining the FDIC, Rentezelas was of counsel with Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young, LLP, in Cherry Hill, NJ, where she advised banks and other financial institutions on various financial regulatory matters. Before that, she was vice president and senior assistant counsel with Popular Financial Holdings, Inc. of Marlton, NJ. She was also an associate in the financial services department of the Philadelphia office of Blank Rome, LLP, and a law clerk to Federal Magistrate Judge M. Faith Angell.

Rentezelas is a graduate of the Rutgers University School of Law and Cornell University.
Theresa Y. Singleton
Senior Vice President and Community Affairs Officer
Community Development and Regional Outreach
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

Theresa Y. Singleton is senior vice president of the Community Development and Regional Outreach Department at the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia and the Bank’s community affairs officer. Singleton is responsible for overseeing research and outreach initiatives that promote community development and fair and impartial access to credit. She has guided the creation and implementation of the Economic Growth & Mobility Project. She also oversees the Bank’s financial institutions relations initiatives.

Before joining the Bank, Singleton served as the director of research and information at the Housing Assistance Council in Washington, D.C. In that role, she was responsible for the organization’s research and information activities, including oversight of the communications and public relations functions. She also developed and managed the council’s research agenda. In addition, she directed and contributed to research and information products that examined demographic trends, assessed policy impacts, and developed recommendations for rural communities.

Prior to her work on rural housing issues, Singleton taught undergraduate courses on the American political system at Temple University and Widener University. She has a Ph.D., an M.A., and a B.A. in political science from Temple University.

William G. Spaniel
Senior Vice President and Lending Officer
Supervision, Regulation, and Credit
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

William G. Spaniel is a senior vice president and lending officer at the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, overseeing the Bank’s Supervision, Regulation, and Credit Department.

Previously, Spaniel spent 25 years with the Board of Governors, where he advanced through staff and officer positions to associate director of the Division of Banking Supervision and Regulation (BSR). He joined the Board of Governors staff in 1990 as a supervisory financial analyst and advanced to assistant to the director for BSR before he was appointed assistant director in 2000. He was promoted to deputy associate director in 2003, to associate director in 2006, and to senior associate director in 2008.

Before joining the Federal Reserve, Spaniel was a senior consultant for KPMG, specializing in credit administration, profit improvement, and regulatory compliance. He began his career as a compliance officer for a $1 billion savings and loan. Spaniel has a B.A. in economics from the College of William and Mary.
Patricia A. Wilson, senior vice president, chief of staff, and corporate secretary at the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, has been a senior advisor to Philadelphia Fed President and CEO Patrick T. Harker and his leadership teams for more than 17 years. Before joining the Bank, she was vice president and chief of staff at the University of Delaware.

Previously, she was chief of staff and director of faculty administration at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. She also held administrative posts at both the University of Michigan and the University of Chicago.

Wilson has a bachelor’s degree in psychology with a minor in education from Newton College of the Sacred Heart (now Boston College) and received a certificate from the Higher Education Resource Services Bryn Mawr Summer Institute for Women in Higher Education Administration.